

Enjoying the Snow; Thinking of Spring

Five inches of beautiful fluffy snow makes everything look like its hibernating. I'm flipping through the pages of the Delorme Maine Atlas and Gazetteer and dreaming of places to canoe, kayak, and boat this summer.

Right now, my favorite fishing buddy is in front of the fireplace, bored to tears, and not so patiently waiting for the day when we can head for the woods again.